

means for determining if the received assigned landline telephone number is equal to the stored landline telephone number for the base station; and means for updating the stored landline telephone number for the base station with the received assigned landline telephone number when the received assigned landline telephone number is not equal to the stored landline telephone number of the base station. [The call routing equipment of claim 22 wherein the assigned landline telephone number and the BID is received from the base station via the TELCO providing caller identification.]

REMARKS

Applicants gratefully acknowledge the allowance of claim 28. In a telephone conference between the Applicants' attorney and the Examiner on September 30, 1998, the Examiner stated that claim 27 should have been objected to but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Accordingly, claim 27 has been rewritten in independent form including all the limitations of the base claim 22.

In view of the foregoing amendments and remarks, Applicants respectfully submit that claim 27 is now in condition for allowance. Applicants request the reconsideration and reexamination of this application and the timely allowance of pending claim 27.

If there are any other fees due in connection with the filing of this response, please charge the fees to our Deposit Account No. 13-4768. If a fee is required for an extension of time under 37 CFR 1.136 not accounted for above, such an extension is requested and the fee should also be charged to our Deposit Account.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL J. SCHELLINGER et al.
